

Before getting started there a few suggestions on using about working with the companies featured here.

DO thoroughly study a company's website before signing up with them.* Know exactly who they are, where they are, and what they expect of applicants.

DO make sure you have, or can get, whatever requirements are needed to work with a particular company before applying to them. (Such as a dependable care or high speed internet access.)

DO keep your parents or someone you can trust informed of what jobs you take on. It's just good practice.

Okay, ready to get started?
